QUOTE OF THE DAY

"Hope is being able to see that there is light despite all of the darkness." – Desmond Tutu

"My music is about a joyful experience. I've learned that if you can affect other people, you should." – Cyndi Lauper

"Art does not imitate, but interpret. It searches out the idea lying dormant in the symbol, in order to present the symbol to men in such form as to enable them to penetrate through it to the idea. Were it otherwise, what would be the use or value of art?" – Giuseppe Mazzini

"Nature is for art the garb of the Eternal. The real is the finite expression and representation of the true; forms are the limits affixed by time and space to the power of life. Nature, reality, and form, should, all of them, be so rendered and expressed by art, as to reveal to mankind some ray of the truth — a vaster and profounder sentiment of life." – Giuseppe Mazzini

"In tradition and in books an integral part of the individual persists, for it can influence the minds and actions of other people in different places and at different times: a row of black marks on a page can move a man to tears, though the bones of him that wrote it are long ago crumbled to dust. In truth, the whole progress of civilization is based upon this power." – Julian Huxley

"Art! Who comprehends her? With whom can one consult concerning this great goddess?" – Ludwig van Beethoven

"An audience is never wrong. An individual member of it may be an imbecile, but a thousand imbeciles together in the dark - that is critical genius." – Billy Wilder
